A tropical landscaped and private garden leads to an enchanting resort-style pool and barbecue terrace. Showcasing globally sourced materials from the ceiling to the floor and in every corner in between, no detail at this Waialua retreat has been missed. All the amenities you would expect in a luxury tropical home with granite counters, hardwood floors and fine teak furnishings make for a wonderful experience in a rare, peaceful and private Hawaiian paradise. Historic Haleiwa Town: Haleiwa is a wonderful historic Hawaiian town, which is considered the gateway to the North Shore. In Haleiwa you can enjoy shopping, a shave ice, fishing charters, jet ski, stand up paddle boarding, surfing, snorkeling, scuba diving, or an exciting "swim with the sharks" private tour. There are also wonderful restaurants with views of the harbor and amazing North Shore sunsets. World Class Water Sports: The North Shore is the ultimate destination to witness world class big wave surfing. Bonzai Pipeline, Sunset Beach and Waimea Bay are located within the seven-mile miracle known as the North Shore. Enjoy viewing tow-In surfers tackling 20-to-30-foot waves when the swells roll in during the winter or watch the talented kite and wind surfers performing high-flying maneuvers just down the road. From Sugar Plantation to pristine coast: today the little town of Waialua is home to dozens of small coffee and tropical fruit farms that stretch to the majestic mountains. The historical sugar mill is a few miles away with local craftsmen and a farmer's market for locally grown produce and unique Hawaiian crafts. Enjoy the peace and tranquility of this former plantation community.
