

We Declare a Climate Emergency

As part of The Coconut Traveler's mission of delivering sustainable travel experiences to our discerning clientele, we are proactively declaring a climate emergency and taking action to work together with travel thought leaders to find solutions.

Together with other travel professions, we've signed up with Tourism Declares in declaring a climate emergency and taking purposeful action to reduce our carbon emissions as per the advice from The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) to cut global carbon emissions to 55% below 2017 levels by 2030.

Like all signatories, we have committed to the following five actions:

1. Develop a 'Climate Emergency Plan' within the next 12 months, which sets out our intentions to reduce carbon emissions over the next decade. Our plan will reflect our long term commitment and tangible actions we are taking in this direction.
2. Share an initial public declaration of our 'Climate Emergency Plan', and update our progress every year in our published annual reports.
3. Accept current IPCC advice stating the need to cut global carbon emissions to 55% below 2017 levels by 2030 in order to keep the planet within 1.5 degrees of warming. We'll ensure our 'Climate Emergency Plan' represents actions designed to achieve this as a minimum, through delivering transparent, measurable and increasing reductions in the total carbon emissions per customer arising from our operations and the travel services sold by us.
4. Encourage our suppliers and partners to make the same declaration; sharing best practice amongst peers; and actively participate in the Tourism Declares community.
5. Advocate for change. We recognize the need for system change across the industry and call for urgent regulatory action to accelerate the transition towards zero carbon air travel.
